ACTING AUDITIONS:

Memorize at least one of the lines below. Use a lot of expression and speak loud and clear. We are so proud of you for your audition!

MOM: (sounding disappointed) Wait a minute. Aunt Bella just called. It seems they're having a bit of car trouble. They'll need to get it checked out before they hit the road in the morning.

(pleasantly surprised) Well, come in. How in the world did you get here so fast?

DAD: (sound agitated) Children! What has gotten into you three? Calm down. We're sorry our plans have to change... but Christmas is a time to think of others.

Say, speaking about that parade— now that we're all here, I believe we could move up dinner and get to that parade after all.

SOHPIE: No! This can't be happening! Why don't they just stay home this year?

Dad and Mom, it was so real... the entire parade was all about Jesus and His love for us.

SAM: Hey, Giff, I was wonderin', on your gift list, by any chance, is there a drum listed?
You know what? I had the craziest dream. There was an Elf with gifts ... and we were all marching in a Christmas parade...

SARAH: Well, I remember last year the Christmas elves tossed out a lot of candy.
Guys, we should be saying our prayers. Dear God, we're really sorry. Help us with our aptitude. (note: 'apititude' is not a typo, do not correct!)

BRODY: First, yes, this is a dream. And second, I'm Brody. Brody, the Drum Major of this "Dream Team" parade. And last, but not least, these kids, well they're the...
Well, hallelujah! This is music to my ears. Come along, kids. We've got to keep this dream movin'. Follow me, and step in time.

DIXIE: (Country accent) Well, let's see here. I've got the boots, a hat, and a horse named Trigger. Guilty! I'm a cow girl.
Brody, the Parade Brigade sounds mighty fine tonight. But say, I heard there was some talk about canceling Christmas this year!

CHEF BELLA: (French accent) Bonjour, mes amis, and Merry Christmas!

Welcome to "Bella's Bread of Life Bak- ery."

Bonjour. There's talk in my kitchen that your parents may cancel Christmas. Oh. (tsk, tsk, tsk)

GIFF: Why, heaven's no! I can't sit on a shelf at Christmas. I've got so much to do. So much to do indeed. Where do I start?
Why, why, I don't, I don't think so. Why? Should there be? Should there be a, a what did you say?

GLORIA: Why, yes, I do. These colors mean so much to me. They tell the story of the wonderful gift the Christ Child would bring to the world.
Come with me. Let's step back in time over two thousand years.
